Order for the Burial of a Priest

Deacon: Bless, Master!

Priest: Blessed is our God, always, now and ever, and unto ages of ages.

Choir: Amen. Holy God, Holy Mighty, Holy Immortal, have mercy on us. (x3)

First and second times

Traditional

Third time

Reader: Glory to the Father, and to the Son, and to the Holy Spirit, now and ever, and unto ages of ages. Amen.

O most-holy Trinity: have mercy on us. O Lord: cleanse us from our sins.
 O Master: pardon our transgressions. O Holy One: visit and heal our infirmities, for Thy Name's sake.

Lord, have mercy. Lord, have mercy. Lord, have mercy.

Reader: Glory to the Father, and to the Son, and to the Holy Spirit, now and ever and unto ages of ages. Amen.

Our Father, Who art in heaven, hallowed be Thy name. Thy Kingdom come, Thy will be done on earth as it is in heaven. Give us this day our daily bread; and forgive us our trespasses, as we forgive those who trespass against us; and lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil.

Priest: For Thine is the Kingdom, and the power, and the glory: of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Spirit, now and ever, and unto ages of ages.

Choir: Amen.

The First Stasis*

(Psalm 119)

Priest: Blessed art Thou, O Lord! Teach me Thy statutes!
 Blessed are those whose way is blameless, who walk in the law of the Lord.
 Blessed are those who keep His testimonies, who seek Him with their whole heart. (Ps. 119:1-2)

Choir: Alleluia.

Priest: O that my ways may be steadfast in keeping Thy statutes!
 Then I shall not be put to shame, having my eyes fixed on all Thy commandments.
 I will praise Thee with an upright heart, when I learn Thy righteous ordinances. (vs. 5-7)

*For text of complete Stasis, see Appendix A

First Stasis

Choir: Alleluia.

I have hidden Thy word in my heart, that I might not sin against Thee.
In the way of Thy testimonies I delight, as much as in all riches. (v. 10-14)

Choir: Alleluia.

Priest: Deal bountifully with Thy servant; give me life, and I shall keep Thy word.
Open my eyes, that I may behold wondrous things out of Thy law.
I am only a sojourner on earth; hide not Thy commandments from me.
(v. 17-19)

Choir: Alleluia.

Priest: Make me understand the way of Thy precepts, and I will meditate on Thy wondrous works.
My soul melts away for sorrow; strengthen me according to Thy word.
I have chosen the way of truth; I have not forgotten Thine ordinances.
(vs. 27-28, 30)

 Let Thy mercy come to me, O Lord; Thy salvation, according to Thy promise.
 I will keep Thy law continually, forever and ever. (vs. 40-41, 44)

Choir: Alleluia.

Priest: And I shall walk at liberty, for I have sought Thy precepts.

 I remember Thy Name in the night, O Lord, and keep Thy law.
 Thou art my portion, O Lord; I promise to keep Thy words. (vs. 54-55, 57)

Choir: Alleluia.

First Stasis

Priest: At midnight I rise to praise Thee, because of Thy righteous ordinances.
It was good for me that Thou hast humbled me, that I might learn Thy statutes.
The law of Thy mouth is better to me than thousands of gold and silver pieces. (vs. 62, 71-72)

Choir: Lord have mercy.

Lord, have mer - cy. Lord, have mer - cy.
 Grant it, O Lord. Lord, have mer - cy. A - men.

Deacon: Again we pray for the repose of the servant of God, (n), departed this life; and that he may be pardoned all his sins, both voluntary and involuntary.

Choir: Lord, have mercy.

Deacon: That the Lord will establish his soul where the just repose.

Choir: Lord, have mercy.

Deacon: The mercies of God, the Kingdom of Heaven, and the remission of his sins, let us ask of Christ, the immortal King and God.

Choir: Grant it, O Lord.

Deacon: Let us pray to the Lord.

Choir: Lord, have mercy.

Priest: O God of spirits, and of all flesh, Who hast trampled down death by death and overthrown the Devil, and given life to Thy world: do Thou, the same Lord, give rest to the soul of Thy departed servant, (n), in a place of brightness, a place of refreshment, a place of repose, where all sickness, sighing, and sorrow have fled away. Pardon every transgression which he has committed, whether by word or deed or thought. For Thou art a good God and lovest mankind; because there is no man who lives yet does not sin; for Thou only art without sin; Thy righteousness is to all eternity; and Thy word is truth.

For Thou art the resurrection, the life, and the repose of Thy servant, (n), who is fallen asleep, O Christ our God, and unto Thee we ascribe glory, together with Thy Father, Who is from everlasting, and Thine all-holy, good, and life-creating Spirit, now and ever, and unto ages of ages.

Choir: Amen.

The Second Stasis*

(Psalm 119)

Priest: Thy hands have fashioned me; give me understanding that I may learn Thy commandments.
 Those who fear Thee shall see me and rejoice, because I have hoped in Thy word.
 I know, O Lord, that Thy judgments are right, and that in faithfulness, Thou hast afflicted me. (vs. 73-75)

Choir: Have mercy upon Thy servant.

Priest: Let Thy mercy come to me that I may live, for Thy law is my delight. My soul languishes for Thy salvation; I hope in Thy word. My eyes fail with watching for Thy promise; I ask, "When wilt Thou comfort me?" (vs. 77, 81-82)

Choir: Have mercy upon Thy servant.

Priest: In Thy steadfast love spare my life, that I may keep the commandments of Thy mouth. If Thy law had not been my delight, I should have perished in my affliction. I will never forget Thy precepts; for by them Thou hast given me life. (vs. 88, 92-93)

Choir: Have mercy upon Thy servant.

Priest: I am Thine, save me; for I have sought Thy precepts. I have seen that all things come to an end, but Thy commandment alone is eternal. How sweet are Thy words to my taste, sweeter than honey to my mouth! (vs. 94, 96, 103)

*For text of complete Stasis, see Appendix B

Choir: Have mercy upon Thy servant.

Priest: My soul is continually in Thy hands, and I have not forgotten Thy law.
I incline my heart to perform Thy statutes forever, to the end.
Uphold me according to Thy promise, that I may live, and let me not be put to shame in my hope. (vs. 109, 112, 116)

Choir: Have mercy upon Thy servant.

Priest: Help me, and I shall be saved, and I will meditate on Thy statutes continually.

(vs. 117, 123, 125)

EPISTLE I

(I Thess. 4:13-18)

Reader: The reading from the Epistle of the Holy Apostle Paul to the Thessalonians.

Deacon: Let us attend.

Reader: Brethren: We would not have you ignorant concerning those who are asleep, that you may not grieve as others who have no hope. For since we believe that Jesus died and rose again, even so, through Jesus, God will bring with Him those who have fallen asleep. For this we declare to you by word of the Lord, that we who are alive, who are left until the coming of the Lord, shall not precede those who have fallen asleep. For the Lord Himself will descend from heaven with a cry of command, with the archangel's call, and with the sound of the trumpet of God. And the dead in Christ will rise first; then we who are alive, who are left, shall be caught up together with them in the clouds to meet the Lord in the air; and so we shall always be with the Lord.

Priest: Peace be unto you, reader.

Reader: And to your spirit. Alleluia, Alleluia, Alleluia.

Priest: (John 5:24-30) The Lord said to the Jews who came to Him: "Truly, truly I say to you, the hour is coming, and now is, when the dead will hear the voice of the Son of God, and those who hear will live. For as the Father has life in Himself, so He has granted the Son also to have life in Himself, and has given Him authority to execute judgment, because He is the Son of man. Do not marvel at this; for the hour is coming when all who are in the tombs will hear His voice and come forth, those who have done good, to the resurrection of life, and those who have done evil, to the resurrection of judgment. I can do nothing because I seek not my own will but the will of Him who sent me."

Choir: Glory to Thee, O Lord, glory to Thee.

Prayer I

Deacon: Let us pray to the Lord.

Choir: Lord, have mercy.

Lord, have mercy.

Priest: O Master, Lord our God, Who alone hast immortality and dwellest in light unapproachable, Who slayest and makest alive, Who castest down into hell and again raisest up; Thou Who in wisdom hast created man and returnest him to the earth again, exacting the spiritual debt: We beseech Thee, receive the soul of Thy servant, and grant him rest in the bosom of Abraham and Isaac and Jacob, and give him the crown of Thy righteousness, the portion of the saved, in the glory of Thine elect. And for those things which in this world he accomplished for Thy Name's sake, may he receive a rich reward in the mansions of the saints; through the grace and bounties and love toward mankind of Thine Only-begotten Son, our Lord Jesus Christ. Amen.

EPISTLE II

(Rom. 5:12-21)

Reader: The reading from the Epistle of the Holy Apostle Paul to the Romans.

Deacon: Let us attend.

Reader: Brethren: Therefore as sin came into the world through one man and death through sin, and so death spread to all men because all men sinned—sin indeed was in the world before the law was given, but sin is not counted where there is no law. Yet death reigned from Adam to Moses, even over those whose sins were not like the transgressions of Adam, who was a type of the one who was to come.

But the free gift is not like the trespass. For if many died through one man's trespass, much more have the grace of that one man Jesus Christ abounded for many. And the free gift is not like the effect of the one man's sin. For the judgment following one trespass brought condemnation, but the free gift following many trespasses brings justification. If, because of one man's trespass, death reigned through that one man, much more will those who receive the abundance of grace and the free gift of righteousness reign in life through the one man Jesus Christ.

Then as one man's trespass led to condemnation for all men, so one man's act of righteousness leads to acquittal and life for all men. For as by one man's disobedience many were made sinners, so by one man's obedience many will be made righteous. Law came in, to increase the trespass; but where sin increased, grace abounded all the more, so that, as sin reigned in death, grace also might reign through righteousness to eternal life through Jesus Christ our Lord.

Deacon: Let us attend.

Priest: (John 5:17-24) The Lord said to the Jews who came to Him, "My Father is working still, and I am working." This was why the Jews sought all the more to kill Him, because He not only broke the sabbath but also called God His Father, making Himself equal with God. Jesus said to them, "Truly, truly, I say to you, the Son can do nothing of His own accord, but only what He sees the Father doing; for whatever He does, that the Son does likewise. For the Father loves the Son, and shows Him all that He Himself is doing; and greater works than these will He show Him, that you may marvel. For as the Father raises the dead and gives them life, so also the Son gives life to Whom He will. The Father judges no one, but has given all judgment to the Son, that all may honor the Son, even as they honor the Father. He who does not honor the Son does not honor the Father Who sent Him. Truly, truly, I say to you, he who hears My word and believes Him Who sent Me, has eternal life; he does not come into judgment, but has passed from death to life."

Choir: Glory to Thee, O Lord, glory to Thee.

PRAYER II

Choir: Lord, have mercy.

Lord, — have mer - cy.

Priest: We give thanks unto Thee, O Lord our God, for Thou alone hast life immortal. Thy glory is ineffable, Thy love toward mankind is unutterable, Thy Kingdom never fails, and with Thee there is no respect of persons; for unto all men Thou hast appointed a common debt of life, whose measure must be fulfilled. Therefore we entreat Thee, O Lord, our God: Give rest in the bosom of Abraham and Isaac and Jacob unto Thy servant, (n), who was a priest and our fellow-minister, who has fallen asleep in the hope of resurrection unto life eternal. And as Thou didst appoint him to be a minister of Thy Church on earth, so also make him the same at Thy heavenly altar, O Lord. As Thou hast adorned him with spiritual honor among men, so also receive him uncondemned into the glory of the angels. Thou Thyself hast glorified his life upon the earth; in the same way, make glorious his departure from this life and his entrance among Thy saints, and number his soul with all those who from all the ages have been well-pleasing in Thy sight. For Thou art the resurrection and the life and the repose of Thy servant, (n), who has fallen asleep, O Christ our God, and unto Thee do we ascribe glory, to the Father and to the Son and to the Holy Spirit, now and ever and unto ages of ages. Amen.

Reader: The reading from the Epistle of the Holy Apostle Paul to the Corinthians.

Deacon: Let us attend.

Reader: Brethren: I would remind you in what terms I preached to you the gospel, which you received, in which you stand, by which you are saved, if you hold it fast—unless you believed in vain. For I delivered to you as of first importance what I also received, that Christ died for our sins in accordance with the scriptures, that He was buried, that He was raised on the third day in accordance with the scriptures, and that He appeared to Cephas, then to the twelve. Then He appeared to more than five hundred brethren at one time, most of whom are still alive, though some have fallen asleep. Then He appeared to James, then to all the Apostles. Last of all, as to one untimely born, He appeared also to me. For I am the least of the Apostles, unfit to be called an Apostle, because I persecuted the church of God. But by the grace of God I am what I am, and His grace toward me was not in vain. On the contrary, I worked harder than any of them, though it was not I, but the grace of God which is with me. Whether then it was I or they, so we preach and so you believed.

But I said to you that you have seen Me and yet do not believe. All that the Father gives Me will come to Me; and him who comes to Me I will not cast out. For I have come down from heaven, not to do My own will, but the will of Him who sent Me; and this is the will of Him who sent Me, that I should lose nothing of all that He has given Me, but raise it up at the last day. For this is the will of My Father, that every one who sees the Son and believes in Him should have eternal life; and I will raise him up at the last day."

And give rest in Abraham's bosom unto Thy servant, (n), who has fallen asleep in the hope of resurrection unto life eternal. EPISTLE IV

(I Cor. 15:20-29)

Reader: The reading from the Epistle of the Holy Apostle Paul to the Corinthians.

Deacon: Let us attend.

Reader: Brethren: Christ has been raised from the dead, the first fruits of those who have fallen asleep. For as by a man came death, by a man has come also the resurrection of the dead. For as in Adam all die, so also in Christ shall all be made alive. But each in his own order: Christ the first fruits, then at His coming those who belong to Christ. Then comes the end, when He delivers the kingdom to God the Father after destroying every rule and every authority and power. For He must reign until He has put all His enemies under His feet. The last enemy to be destroyed is death. "For God has put all things in subjection under His feet." But when it says, "All things are put in subjection under Him," it is plain that He is excepted Who put all things under Him. When all things are subjected to Him, then the Son Himself will also be subjected to Him Who put all things under him, that God may be everything to every one.

The Jews then murmured at Him, because He said, "I am the bread which came down from heaven." They said, "Is not this Jesus, the son of Joseph, whose father and mother we know? How does He now say, 'I have come down from heaven?'" Jesus answered them, "Do not murmur among yourselves. No one can come to Me unless the Father Who sent Me draws him; and I will raise him up at the last day."

Bless - ed are those who hunger and thirst after right - eous - ness, for they shall be filled. Bless - ed are the mer - ci - ful, for they shall ob - tain mer - cy.

Reader: When Adam of old ate of the tree which was for food, he was driven out of Paradise. But when the thief, as he hung upon the cross, confessed Thee to be God, he was made a citizen of Paradise. And we, who have been saved by Thy Passion, O Master, imitating the thief, with faith cry out: "Remember us also, when Thou comest in Thy Kingdom."

Bless - ed are the pure in heart, for they shall see God.

"Beatitudes"

Reader: Taking clay from the earth, He Who created me fashioned my body through His divine will; and after breathing into it a soul with His life-bearing breath, He laid upon it a holy command. Therefore hast Thou called me who am subject to the corruption of sin, O Thou Who lovest mankind, because of Thy boundless compassion. But grant rest with Thy saints, O God, unto him whom Thou hast called.

Bless-ed are the peace-mak-ers, for they shall be called the sons of God.

Reader: When the soul is parted from the body, fearful is the mystery and terrible to all men: for the soul goes forth lamenting, and the body is committed to the earth, and hidden from sight. Therefore, since we too have learned our final end, let us entreat the Savior, crying aloud with tears: "Remember us also, O Lord, when Thou comest in Thy Kingdom."

Bless - ed are those who are persecuted for right - eous - ness' sake, for theirs is the King - dom of Heav - en.

"Beatitudes"

Reader: "Why do you mourn me so violently, O men? Why do you clamor so vainly?" He who is called hence proclaims to all. Death is a rest unto all men. Therefore, let us listen to the voice of Job, when he says: "Death is rest unto man." But grant rest with Thy saints, O God, unto him whom Thou hast taken.

Bless-ed are you when men shall revile you and per - se - cute you, and shall say all manner of evil against you false - ly for my sake.

Reader: Paul, the all-wise, clearly foretold translation hence, teaching all men that the dead shall rise again incorruptible, and we shall all be changed by divine command. Then shall the trumpet ring out with dreadful alarm, and they who in all the ages have gone unto their rest shall arise from their sleep. But grant rest with Thy saints, O God, unto him whom Thou hast taken.

Reader: He who is gone hence and lies dead in the grave cries out to all in gracious reconciliation, "Come to me, ye born of earth, and behold the beauty of the body all turned to blackness." Wherefore, O Brethren, having learned from this our own end, let us appeal to the Savior, crying out in tears: "Grant rest with Thy saints, O God, unto him whom Thou hast taken."

EPISTLE V

(Rom. 14:6-9)

Reader: The reading from the Epistle of the Holy Apostle Paul to the Romans.

Deacon: Let us attend.

Reader: Brethren: He who observes the day, observes it in honor of the Lord. He also who eats, eats in honor of the Lord, since he gives thanks to God; while he who abstains, abstains in honor of the Lord and gives thanks to God. None of us lives to himself, and none of us dies to himself. If we live, we live to the Lord, and if we die, we die to the Lord; so then, whether we live or whether we die, we are the Lord's. For to this end Christ died and lived again, that He might be Lord both of the dead and of the living.

Priest: Peace be unto you, reader.

Reader: And to your spirit. Alleluia, Alleluia, Alleluia.

Choir:

The musical score shows a soprano vocal line and a basso continuo line. The soprano line features a continuous eighth-note pattern. The lyrics "Al - le - lu - ia," are repeated three times, with each repetition ending in a cadence. The basso continuo line provides harmonic support with sustained notes and bassline patterns.

GOSPEL V

Choir: Glory to Thee, O Lord, glory to Thee.

Musical notation for the choir's response. The top staff is in treble clef, G major (two sharps), and the bottom staff is in bass clef, G major (two sharps). The lyrics "Glory to Thee, O Lord, glory to Thee." are written below the notes. The melody consists of eighth and sixteenth notes, with a fermata over the word "Thee".

Priest: (John 6:48-54) The Lord said to the Jews who came to Him, "I am the bread of life. Your fathers ate the manna in the wilderness, and they died. This is the bread which comes down from heaven, that a man may eat of it and not die. I am the living bread which came down from heaven; if any one eats of this bread, he will live forever; and the bread which I shall give for the life of the world is My flesh." The Jews then disputed among themselves, saying, "How can this man give us his flesh to eat?" So Jesus said to them, "Truly, truly, I say to you, unless you eat the flesh of the Son of Man and drink His blood, you will have no life in you; he who eats My flesh and drinks My blood has eternal life, and I will raise him up at the last day."

PSALM 50

Reader: Have mercy on me, O God, according to Thy great mercy; according to the multitude of Thy tender mercies, blot out my transgressions. Wash me thoroughly from my iniquity and cleanse me from my sin. For I know my transgressions, and my sin is ever before me. Against Thee, Thee only, have I sinned, and done that which is evil in Thy sight, so that Thou art justified in Thy sentence and blameless in Thy judgment. Behold, I was brought forth in iniquity, and in sins did my mother conceive me. Behold, Thou desirest truth in the inward being; therefore teach me wisdom in my secret heart. Purge me with hyssop, and I shall be clean; wash me, and I shall be whiter than snow. Fill me with joy and gladness; let the bones which Thou hast broken rejoice. Hide not Thy face from my sins, and blot out all my iniquities. Create in me a clean heart, O God, and put a new and right spirit within me. Cast me not away from Thy presence, and take not Thy Holy Spirit from me. Restore to me the joy of Thy salvation, and uphold me with a willing spirit. Then I will teach transgressors Thy ways, and sinners will return to Thee. Deliver me from bloodguiltiness, O God, Thou God of my salvation, and my tongue will sing aloud of Thy deliverance. O Lord, open Thou my lips, and my mouth shall show forth Thy praise. For Thou hast no delight in sacrifice; were I to give a burnt offering, Thou wouldst not be pleased. The sacrifice acceptable to God is a broken spirit; a broken and contrite heart, O God, Thou wilt not despise. Do good to Zion in Thy good pleasure; rebuild the walls of Jerusalem. Then wilt Thou delight in right sacrifices, in burnt offerings and whole burnt offerings; then bulls will be offered on Thine altar.

Oikos 2-5

Priest: [Oikos 2] In thought I beg you: hearken to me, for with difficulty I announce these things. For your sakes I have moaned; perhaps it may profit one of you. But when you sing these words, make mention now and then of me whom you once knew. For often have we walked together, and together in the house of God have sung:

Choir: Alleluia.

Priest: [Oikos 3] Rise and make ready, and when you are set, hear the word. Terrible, O brethren, is the judgment seat before which we must all stand. There is neither slave nor freeman there; there is neither small or great, but we all shall stand naked there. Thus it is good to sing together this psalm:

Choir: Alleluia!

Priest: [Oikos 4] Let us all be consumed with tears when we behold these earthly remains stretched out, when we all draw near to kiss them and perhaps utter words like these: Lo, you have abandoned us who love you. You speak no longer with us, O friend. Why do you not speak as you once did? Why do you hold your peace who used to say with us:

Choir: Alleluia!

Priest: [Oikos 5] O brethren, why do the dying speak such bitter words as they depart hence? I am parted from my brethren. All my friends I abandon hence. Yet I do not understand where I am going nor what is to become of me there. Only God, who has summoned me, knows. But keep my commemoration with the song:

Choir: Alleluia!

Priest: [Oikos 6] Where are the souls now going? And how do they dwell together there? This mystery I have desired to learn but none can teach aright. Do they remember their own as we do them? Or have they forgotten all who mourn and sing:

Choir: Alleluia!

Priest: [Oikos 7] Accompany the dead, O friends, and approach the grave with mindfulness. Look carefully and ready your feet. All youth is fallen into corruption there; all the flower of life is faded. They are dust and ashes and worms; all is silent there, and no man says:

Choir: Alleluia!

Priest: [Oikos 8] Lo, now we behold him who lies here, but shall never lie before us any more. Lo, already his tongue is stilled. And lo, his mouth has ceased to speak. Farewell, O my friends, my children. Farewell, O brethren. Farewell, O my comrades, for I go forth upon my way. But make commemoration of me with this song:

Choir: Alleluia!

Priest: [Oikos 9] None of former friends and kinfolk gone before us have returned to life to tell us how they fare. Wherefore we often ask if we will see each other there. Shall we see our brethren there? Shall we there be able to say the psalm:

Choir: Alleluia!

Priest: [Oikos 10] We go forth on the path of eternity, and as ones condemned, with downcast faces, we present ourselves before the only God eternal. Where then is comeliness? Where then is wealth? Where then is the glory of this world? There none of these things will aid us, but only oft to say the psalm:

Choir: Alleluia!

Priest: [Oikos 11] What is this untimely vexation, O mortals? Yet one hour, and all things shall pass away. For in Hell there is no repentance, nor further remission. There is a worm that does not sleep; there is a land of darkness and shadow, where I must be judged. For I was not eager to recite the psalm:

Choir: Alleluia!

Priest: [Oikos 12] Nothing is so soon forgotten by a man as a man who has parted. If for a brief time we remember, we immediately forget death, as if we do not die ourselves. Parents, also, utterly forget their children, whom from their own bodies they have borne and reared, and, with tears, have accompanied the song:

Choir: Alleluia!

Priest: [Oikos 13] I will remember you, my brethren, my children and my friends. Do not forget me when you pray to the Lord. I entreat, beseech and implore that you learn this by heart and mourn for me night and day. I say to you as Job to his friends: "sit again and say:

Choir: Alleluia!

Priest: [Oikos 14] Leaving all behind us, we go forth naked and grieving to present ourselves before God. For like the grass does beauty fade, and we mortals are only allured by it. You were born naked, O wretched one, and naked must you appear there. Dream not, O mortal, of the sweetness in this life, but groan in mourning:

Choir: Alleluia!

Priest: [Oikos 15] If you have shown mercy to a man, O mortal, that same mercy will be shown to you there. If you have shown compassion on an orphan, then He will deliver you from want. If in this life you clothed the naked, then He will give you shelter there and sing the psalm:

Choir: Alleluia!

Priest: [Oikos 16] Toilsome is the path on which I must travel, one I have never traveled before. Unknown is that land, and no one knows anything of me there. Awesome it is to behold my guides of Him who has called me, the Lord of Life and Death, Who calls us at His will:

Choir: Alleluia!

Priest: [Oikos 17] If journeying from another land, we stand in need of guides, what shall we do when we come to a land still unknown? Many guides will you need then, and many prayers, as well, to save the wretched soul; until you come to Christ and say to Him:

Choir: Alleluia!

Priest: [Oikos 18] They who are enslaved to the material passions shall find no pardon there whatsoever. For there are the dread accusers; there, also, the books are opened. Where will you gaze around, O mortal? And who shall save you? Unless you have led an upright life, and has done good to the needy, singing:

Choir: Alleluia!

Priest: [Oikos 19] At the hour of death, youth and the beauty of the body fade away, the tongue burns fiercely, and the throat is inflamed. The beauty of the eyes is quenched then, the comeliness of the face is altered, the shapeliness of the neck is destroyed; and the rest is silent, not saying:

Choir: Alleluia!

Priest: [Oikos 20] Hush, then, be silent. Keep your silence before him who lies here, and gaze upon the mighty mystery; for terrible is this hour. Be silent, that the soul may go forth in peace, for it is constrained to a great ordeal, and in fear it often prays to God:

Choir: Alleluia!

Priest: [Oikos 21] I beheld a dying child and mourned my life. For he was greatly agitated and trembled greatly when the hour had come, and cried, O father, help me! O mother, save me! No one could help him then, but they helplessly stood and gazed at him, and wept for him in the grave:

Choir: Alleluia!

Priest: [Oikos 22] How many are suddenly snatched from their wedding to the grave, united by an eternal bond, and moaned endlessly and have not yet risen from that bridal chamber! But it was both marriage and the grave, both union and disunion, both laughter and weeping, and the psalm:

Choir: Alleluia!

Priest: [Oikos 23] We are inflamed with ecstasy if we but hear there is light eternal there: that there is a fountain of our life and everlasting delight. There is Paradise, where every soul of the Righteous rejoices. Let us all also enter into Christ, that we all may cry out:

Choir: Alleluia!

Priest: [Oikos 24] O all-holy and unwedded Virgin, who has brought forth the Ineffible Light, I pray, beseech and entreat you: Cease not to implore the Lord for your servant who has fallen asleep, O most pure Lady, that he may find remission of his iniquities on the Day of Judgment. For you, O Lady, always have boldness to ever beseech your Son:

Deacon: Let us attend!

Reader: Brethren: The first man was from the earth, a man of dust; the second man is from heaven. As was the man of dust, so are those who are of heaven. Just as we have borne the image of the man of dust, we shall also bear the image of the man of heaven. I tell you this, brethren: flesh and blood cannot inherit the kingdom of God, nor does the perishable inherit the imperishable.

Lo! I tell you a mystery. We shall not all sleep, but we shall all be changed, in a moment, in a twinkling of an eye, at the last trumpet. For the trumpet will sound, and the dead will be raised imperishable, and we shall be changed. For this perishable nature must put on immortality. When the perishable puts on the imperishable, and the mortal puts on immortality, then shall come to pass the saying that is written:

"Death is swallowed up in victory."
 "O death, where is thy victory?"
 "O death, where is thy sting?"

The sting of death is sin, and the power of sin is the law. But thanks be to God, who gives us the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ.

Priest: The Lord said to the Jews who came to Him: "I am the bread of life. Your fathers ate the manna in the wilderness, and they died. This is the bread which comes down from heaven, that a man may eat of it and not die. I am the living bread which came down from heaven; if any one eats of this bread, he will live for ever; and the bread which I shall give for the life of the world is My flesh."

The Jews then disputed among themselves, saying, "How can this man give us His flesh to eat?" So Jesus said to them, "Truly, truly, I say to you, unless you eat the flesh of the Son of man and drink His blood, you have no life in you; he who eats My flesh and drinks my blood has eternal life, and I will raise him up at the last day."

Bishop: (Or Senior Priest) Our Lord Jesus Christ, by His divine grace, as also by the gift and power vouchsafed unto His holy Disciples and Apostles, that they should bind and loose the sins of men: (For He said unto them: Receive ye the Holy Spirit: Whosoever sins ye remit, they are remitted; whosoever sins ye retain, they are retained. And whatsoever ye shall bind or loose upon earth shall be bound or loosed also in heaven.)

By that same power, also, transmitted unto us from them, this my spiritual child, (n), is absolved through me, unworthy though I be, from all things wherein as mortal he has sinned against God, whether in word or deed or thought, and with all his senses, whether voluntary or involuntary whether wittingly or through ignorance. If he be under the ban or ex-communication of a Bishop or of a Priest, or has incurred the curse of his father or mother, or has fallen under his own curse, or has sinned by any oath, or has been bound as man by any sins whatsoever, but has repented of them with contrition of heart, he is now absolved from all those faults and bonds.

May all those things which have proceeded from the weakness of his mortal nature be consigned to oblivion and be remitted unto him; through His loving-kindness, through the prayers of our most holy and blessed and glorious Lady, the Theotokos and ever Virgin Mary, of the holy, glorious and all-laudable Apostles, and of all the saints.
