bar - ren wom - an, and grace gloriously begins to bear its fruit.

Rejoice, Joachim, who have become the father of the The - o - to - kos!

There is no oth - er like you among earthborn fathers, O man in-spired by God; for the Maiden in whom God would come to dwell, the Tab - ernacle of God, the all - ho - ly Moun - tain, // has been given to us through you.

Sticheron 2

Soprano
Alto

Tenor
Bass

Oh, the mar-vel-ous won-der! The fruit of a barren wom - an has shone forth at the behest of the Almighty Mak - er of all, and mightily destroyed the barrenness of this world, which was fruit - less in good — things. You moth - ers, dance with the Mother of the The - o - to - kos and cry: "Rejoice, O full of grace, the Lord is with — you, //

He Who grants the world through you His great mer - cy!"

A liv - ing pil - lar of chas - ti - ty and bright vessel shin - ing with grace, glo - ri - ous An - na has given birth to the true stronghold of vir - gin - i - ty, the divine flower, who manifestly bestows the beau - ty of vir - gin - i - ty on all vir - gins and women who de - sire that grace, // and grants to all the faithful great mer - cy.
