Sticheron 1

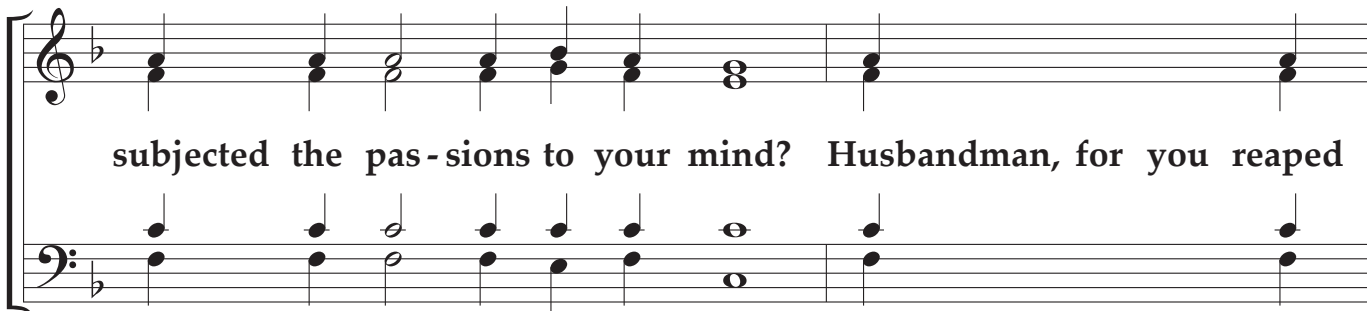

Russian Imperial Court Chant
arr. from L'vov/Bakhmetev

Soprano
Alto

Tenor
Bass

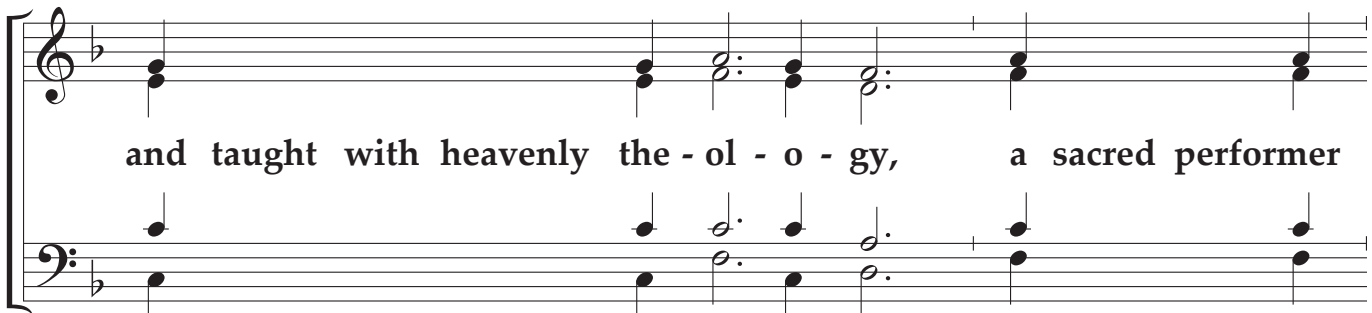

What shall we call you, O Greg-o - ry? Master, for you subjected the pas-sions to your mind? Husbandman, for you reaped the fruit of wis - dom? One granted the vision of God and taught with heavenly the - ol - o - gy, a sacred performer

[ of the mys-teries, ]

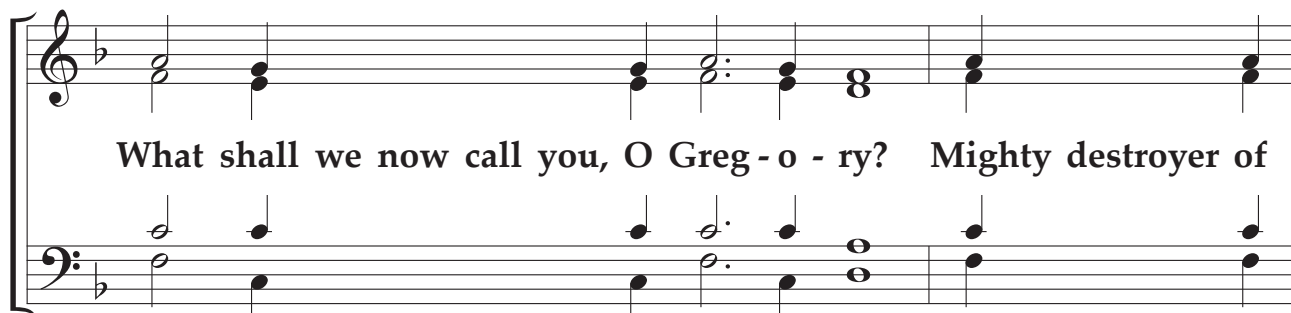

of the mys - ter - ies, and most wondrous work - er of

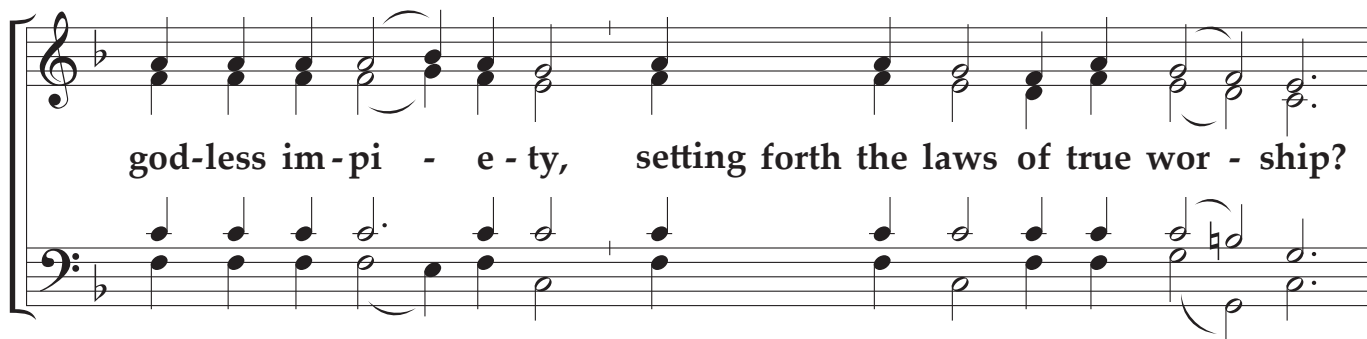

mir - a - cles? // Pray that our souls may be saved! [Repeat]

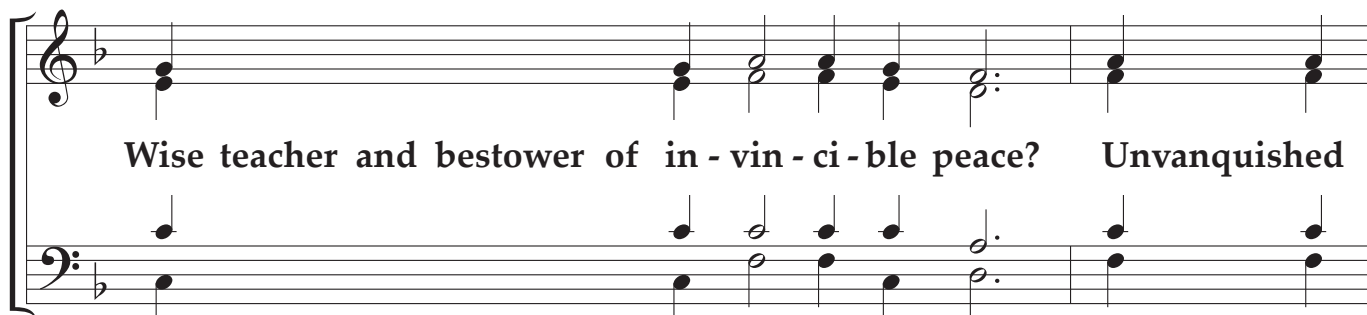

Sticheron 2

What shall we now call you, O Greg - o - ry? Mighty destroyer of god-less im - pi - e - ty, setting forth the laws of true wor - ship?

Wise teacher and bestower of in - vin - ci - ble peace? Unvanquished

[ conqueror of ar-mies? ]

conqueror of ar - mies? One who ever dwells in the moun-tains, beholding those living in the cit - ies? // Pray that our souls

may be saved!

Sticheron 3

What shall we now proclaim you, O ven - 'ra - ble one?

You followed the Apostles as a worker of mir - a - cles,

[ and restrained the riv-er... ]

and restrained the riv - er by call - ing on Christ, drying up the lake that was the cause of contention between broth - ers.

You dispersed the ungodly congre - ga - tion, increasing and enlightening Chris - tian as - sem - blies. // Pray that our souls

may be saved!
