Choral Conducting for Beginners is a conducting course for beginners or those who are currently conducting a choir but have not completed a formal conducting course. The class sessions are devoted to demonstrating basic conducting technique, beginning with elementary conducting patterns and concluding with an emphasis on conducting liturgical chant.

Each learner will be required to meet interactively with the instructor via Skype for a thirty-minute session each week. These sessions will provide an opportunity for each individual learner to demonstrate his/her comprehension of each session and the ability to perform the conducting exercises correctly. At these interactive meetings the learner will receive necessary feedback from the instructor together with helpful suggestions for improvement. Such one-on-one real time Skype sessions will also enable the instructor to provide extra help, if necessary, and answer specific questions.

Students registering for the class will need the following:

- 1) Up-to-date computer that will run Skype – <http://www.skype.com/intl/en-us/get-skype>
- 2) Web cam with microphone
- 3) Internet connection that is not dial-up

First session will be available on September 15, 2014.
